

- What degree program and concentration should I select?
- What are the time commitments and how quickly will I be able to complete my degree?
- What will it cost? Is the undergraduate book grant available to me?
- How can I affordably finance my education?
- Will any of my prior training or academic courses transfer toward a degree at APU?
- Is online education right for me?
- How does online education work?
- Can I take just one class instead of signing up for a semester to see if I like the program and online format?

At American Public University, we are committed to helping you succeed in your college career. Please contact our Enrollment Services team at 1-877-777-9081 or info@apus.edu to answer your questions or to learn more about our programs and support teams.

We want you to make an informed decision about the university that's right for you. For more about the graduation rate and median debt of students who completed each program, as well as other important information—visit www.APUS.edu/disclosure.

Intelligence Studies Programs at American Public University (APU)

APU offers comprehensive degree and certificate programs in intelligence studies. The interdisciplinary curriculum gives students exposure to instructors with strong professional and academic credentials, many who currently work in the U.S. intelligence community. Designed for experienced individuals as well as those new to the field—the program teaches a variety of collection, analysis, and operational proficiencies required for intelligence professionals. Students also have the option to pursue a concentration in a functional study or sub-field.

Bachelor of Arts in Intelligence Studies: 121 semester hours (40 courses)

In addition to a general concentration, concentrations are offered in:

- Counterintelligence
- Criminal Intelligence
- Cyber
- Asian Area Studies
- Intelligence Analysis
- Intelligence Collection
- Intelligence Operations
- Latin America Area Studies
- Middle East Area Studies
- Terrorism Studies

Courses include:

- Critical Analysis
- Human Intelligence
- Introduction to Intelligence
- Law and Ethics in Intelligence

Master of Arts in Intelligence Studies – Capstone Option: 36 semester hours (12 courses)

In addition to a general concentration, concentrations are offered in:

- Criminal Intelligence
- Cyber
- Homeland Security
- Intelligence Analysis
- Intelligence Collection
- Intelligence Management
- Intelligence Operations
- Terrorism Studies
- Organized Crime
- Terrorism: Assessing the Past to Forecast the Future

Undergraduate and graduate certificate programs are also available:

- Certificates in Cybercrime [Grad] and Cybercrime Essentials [Undergrad]: 18 semester hours (6 courses)
- Certificate in Intelligence Analysis: 18 semester hours (6 courses)
- Certificate in Intelligence Studies [Grad only]: 18 semester hours (6 courses)
- Certificate in Terrorism Studies: 18 semester hours (6 courses)

