

- What degree program and concentration should I select?
- What are the time commitments and how quickly will I be able to complete my degree?
- What will it cost? Is the undergraduate book grant available to me?
- How can I affordably finance my education?
- Will any of my prior training or academic courses transfer toward a degree at APU?
- Is online education right for me?
- How does online education work?
- Can I take just one class instead of signing up for a semester to see if I like the program and online format?

At American Public University, we are committed to helping you succeed in your college career. Please contact our Enrollment Services team at 1-877-777-9081 or info@apus.edu to answer your questions or to learn more about our programs and support teams.

We want you to make an informed decision about the university that's right for you. For more about the graduation rate and median debt of students who completed each program, as well as other important information—visit www.APUS.edu/disclosure/national-security.

National Security Studies Programs at American Public University (APU)

APU offers a graduate degree and certificate program in national security studies that is designed to provide a strong background in the knowledge and skills required of security specialists. The interdisciplinary curriculum is designed to prepare students interested in mid and senior level positions serving in national and international security policy, security and intelligence analysis, and related fields. Many graduates currently work in national and international security communities as civilian or military policy-makers, action-officers, analysts, instructors, and consultants.

Master of Arts in National Security Studies: 36 semester hours (12 courses)*

In addition to a general concentration, concentrations are offered in:

- Cyber
- Homeland Security
- Regional Security Studies
- Security and Intelligence Analysis
- Terrorism Studies

Courses include:

- Advanced Cybercrime Analysis
- Current and Emerging Threats to U.S. National Security
- Domestic Terrorism and Extremist Groups
- Drug Cartels and the Narcotics Threat
- Government and Security in Korea
- Security Risk Management
- Politics and War
- Strategic Geography and Geopolitics

Graduate Certificate in National Security Studies: 18 semester hours (6 courses)

Courses include:

- Cyber Policy and Practice in National Security
- Institutions of National Security
- International Security
- U.S. National Security

*Program available with a Capstone Option.

studyatAPU.com/national-security

1-877-777-9081

info@apus.edu